Artist Biographies

Michael Mucci & Katrin Weiss

Behind the Lens

Michael Mucci and Katrin (Kati) Weiss are the photographers behind Captured Images, a Southwest Florida-based fine art photography partnership. Their work explores wildlife, landscapes and cultural traditions through photographs made around the world.

Michael Mucci

Michael has traveled to more than 70 countries. His photography is grounded in patient observation, with an interest in animal behavior and the places wildlife inhabits. His subjects include the rare black leopard of Laikipia, Kenya, big tusker elephants in Tsavo, mountain gorillas in Uganda, tigers in India and polar bears in the Arctic. His work draws attention to threatened wildlife and the habitats on which it depends.

Katrin (Kati) Weiss

Katrin photographs wildlife, landscapes and cultural traditions, paying particular attention to the relationships between people, animals and the land. Her work includes photographs from Patagonia and Southwest Florida. She seeks to preserve fleeting moments in a changing world, using light, composition and observation to convey the character of her subjects.

A shared photographic practice

Together, Michael and Katrin create fine art collections and exhibitions, including Whispers in the Wild at Arts Bonita in Florida. All wildlife subjects are photographed in the wild. Their work is available as archival fine art prints, including selected hand-signed limited editions.

www.captured-images.com | info@captured-images.com